REVIEWS WORK OF GOVERNMENT

Skeena Member Believes That Improvement and Development of Transportation Is Urgently Required

NATURAL RESOURCES HOLD GREAT WEALTH

Believes Growing Movement of Prairie Grain Over Pacific Coast Road Will Develop Great Ports

WHAT the Province of British Columbia possesses, what it will get, and what it hopes to get, formed the material of which the address of Dr. H. C. Winch, Government member for Skeena, was composed, and which was given in the House yesterday. Dr. Winch seconded the motion moved by Mr. J. R. Colley, member for Kamloops, in reply to the Speech from the Throne.

Relative to Government assistance given to British Columbia hospitals, Dr. Winch asserted that the sum of $1,328,000 had been contributed during the past three years. The total was challenged by Major R. Burde, Albert, who asked for the speaker's authority. Dr. Winch replied that he had obtained all his figures from the department in charge. The reply was satisfactory to the up-Island member.

In the distribution of Government funds among the various hospitals of the Province, the smaller ones secured very little, he said, and consequently carried on their work with difficulty. However, he pointed out, governments of the other Western provinces gave less by half than did British Columbia, and he believed the Government should be commended for its great generosity to no deserving cause.

FRIENDS OF POLICE GET STOLEN GOODS

Too Much Tendency to Rogues, Declares Court

Probe in Montreal Reveals Improper Actions of Captain, Who Admits Making "Errors"

MONTREAL, Nov. 4.—That too much tenderness was being shown to rogues was the opinion of Mr. Justice Coderre, investigating commissioner, who is inquiring into the affairs of the Montreal police, expressed at today's hearing. The circumstances of the baggage of a man, named Brooks, wanted in the United States, being handed over by a local hotel to his friends on the instructions of Capt. Forget, while Brooks himself was in the cell pending extradition, evoked His Lordship's expression.

Admits an "Error"

Capt. Forget admitted he might have made an error, but he advanced the opinion that he had the record of the baggage being planted as evidence against Brooks. Commenting further, Mr. Justice Coderre stated that it was said that Brooks' value contained bonds which were stolen in the United States.

Evidence at the inquiry today turned upon the matter of payments made by victims of robberies in order to gain possession of their stolen goods. His Lordship dealt with a case of a storekeeper whose evidence was ordered sent to the Crown prosecuting officer. He stated that the storekeeper had testified with regard to some stolen furs, for the return of which the victim had paid $10. A series of burglaries, in which the victims were informed by detectives that the goods could be returned upon payment if the complaints were withdrawn, featured the evidence of the earlier session.

MUNICIPALITY TO BENEFIT BY FINE

Huge Amount Levied Against Convicted Toronto Flanahan Be- longs to City, It Is Claimed

TORONTO, Nov. 4.—That none of the $100,000 fine imposed on Austin Jarvis, ex., and Peter Smith, following their conviction on a charge of defrauding the Province, will be payable to the Province, is the opinion of unnamed legal men quoted in The Toronto Star today.

The opinion is based on a section of the code which provides that the fine is payable to the municipality which bears the expense of administering the law. If this applies, the city of Toronto would be entitled to most of the fine and the county would get the balance. Chief Justice Meredith, in imposing the fine in order to jail sentence, said that he did so to restore to the Province money which the two accused had taken in excess of profits and commissions.

MR. BALDWIN ASSUMES OFFICE

Conservative Leader Accepts Task of Forming New Cabinet, to Be Announced on Friday

WILL BE PREMIER AND FIRST LORD OF TREASURY

King Accepts Resignation of the MacDonald Government After Being in Power for Nine Months

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Stanley Baldwin, Conservative Leader, and former Premier, agreed to form a new Cabinet today, when called to Buckingham Palace by King George. The King had previously accepted the resignation of the Cabinet of Ramsay MacDonald, Great Britain's first Labor Premier.

Mr. Baldwin, following his appointment as Premier and First Lord of the Treasury, told newspapermen that he hoped to have the list of his new Cabinet ready by Friday morning. The Government headed by Mr. MacDonald, self-educated son of a Scotch peasant, was in power nine months, during which its defeat was possible at any time by a combined vote in the House of the Conservatives and Liberals, who jointly outnumbered the Laborites.

The Entente Cordiale

The Labor Prime Minister's foreign policy envisaged resumption of the entente cordiale with France, close cooperation with the League of Nations, and settlement of the reparations question, met with general approval, but was on his attitude towards Russia that Mr. MacDonald first faced the wave of disapproval which culminated in his defeat.

"Fulfilling what amounted to a campaign pledge, he extended recognition to Russia and concluded a preliminary commercial agreement with the Soviet Government, which, however, has not yet been ratified."

Then the case of James R. Campbell, editor of a Communist periodical, prosecution of whom on sedition charges was dropped by the Attorney General, brought to the fore the opposition in the House to the Premier's attitude toward Communism in Russia. After a vote had been carried, calling for an inquiry into the case, Mr. MacDonald brought about the dissolution of Parliament, and went before the country.

Public interest seemed somewhat apathetic at first as to the outcome of a general election, but at the eleventh hour in the campaign, the Zinovieff letter incident arose, focusing attention on the Communist propaganda issue, and Labor went down to defeat under a Conservative landslide.

PRESIDENT OF LOAN COMPANY REPLIES

HEAD OF GREAT WEST DIS- CUSSES OTTAWA'S ACTION

Cancellation of Operating Certificate Not Warranted by Facts of Case, He Maintains

WINNIPEG, Nov. 4.—Brief notification was received here today by officials of the Great West Permanent Loan Co. that its certificate had expired and had not been renewed. W. T. Alexander, president of the company, when asked what would be done now by the company, said: "I am very much surprised at the attitude of the Superintendent of Insurance, who issued the certificate last Spring, which to my mind was not a temporary certificate at all, but a permanent one, containing certain provisions relating to the paying off of depositors of the company and reduction of overhead expenses by closing of some branches. These provisions were complied with by the company, and I know of no reason why the present action has been taken. I did not even know that our certificate was supposed to be of a temporary character."

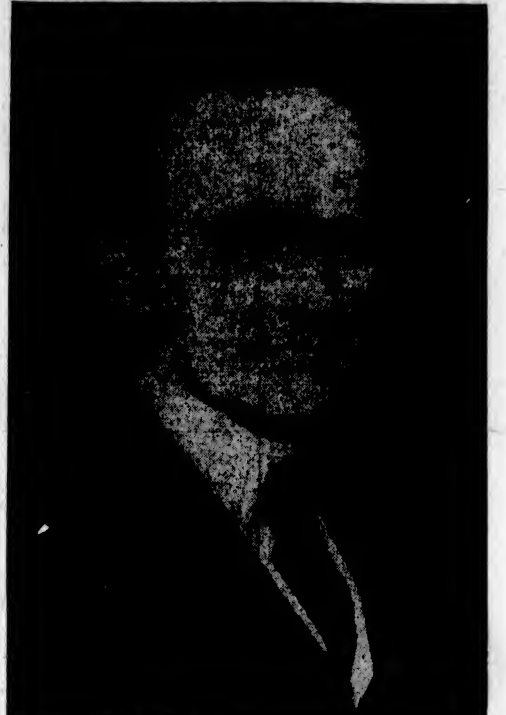

"The attitude of the Superintendent of Insurance is the more surprising because of the fact that this year the company's position has been greatly improved. We have won our Menominee Land case before the Privy Council, which restores to us assets in the neighborhood of $300,000, and our hotel, the Marlborough, our greatest individual investment, has been turned from a losing proposition into a paying one. We have no liabilities and owe no debts."

I think I am safe in saying that when our case is properly presented to the Minister of Finance we shall have no trouble in being reinstated and continuing business."

Presbyterian Church Left $20,000

WINNIPEG, Nov. 4.—The Presbyterian Church of Canada is bequeathed $20,000 through the Westminister Church of Winnipeg, under the terms of the will of G. R. Crowe, prominent local grain merchant. It was announced today. The estate is valued at between $400,000 and $1,000,000. Several well-known educational institutions, including the Presbyterian College of Halifax, N.S., benefited.

Wins His Campaign by Silence

PRESIDENT CALVIN COOLIDGE

He succeeded to the Presidency of the United States following the death of President Harding in the summer of 1923. He is a native of Vermont, is fifty-two years old, and first attracted international attention when, as Governor of Massachusetts, he was given credit for settling the Boston police strike. One of the features of his campaign was the fact that he conducted no speaking tour, thus adding further justification for his sobriquet of "Silent Cal."

LOANS OF DEFUNCT HOME BANK PROBED

TRIAL OF DIRECTOR PROCEEDS IN TORONTO, COURT

Advances Made to Prudential Trust Company Related in Evidence by the Manager

TORONTO, Nov. 4.—At the trial of C. A. Barnard, Home Bank director, today, both crown and defence counsel went deep into the affairs of the Prudential Trust Co. and its relations with the Home Bank and the New Orleans Railway Co. B. Hal Brown, managing director of the Prudential Trust, and L. H. Herlihy, a Montreal broker, who lacked Mr. Barnard with notes for half a million dollars, were the chief witnesses. It developed from the evidence that C. B. Warren, Edmund Bristol and W. Grant Morden, in 1911, asked the Prudential Company for a loan totalling half a million dollars for the New Orleans Railway. The Prudential, not having the money, got the Home Bank to loan it. No interest was paid on the loan for many years. B. Hal Brown said the first application to the company for a loan on behalf of the New Orleans Railway was made in 1911 by C. B. Warren, Edmund Bristol and W. Grant Morden. The board of directors reported favorably on the loan. Mr. Barnard at the time was solicitor for the Prudential. The loan was made by the Home Bank in 1911 to the amount of $200,000. "Did your company get any security?" "Yes, a note from the New Orleans Company endorsed by Messrs. Bristol and Morden."

In April, 1921, when The Toronto World (Daily) ceased publication, The Toronto Sunday World was published by The Mail Printing Co., publishers of The Toronto Mail and Empire, which company has continued the issue until the present time.

KLONDIKE SOURDOUGH HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Attempts Journey From White Horse to Dawson in Spirit Boat, and Runs Into Trouble

DAWSON, Y.T., Nov. 4.—Frank Pratt, an adventurous spirit of sixty, had a narrow escape from death in his latest exploit. Leaving White Horse October 22 in a small boat for Dawson, heavy ice floes and fifteen below zero temperature prevailed for three days until, when within five miles of Dawson, his boat was crushed in an ice jam and Pratt's only recourse was to make shore over the floes. He arrived here November second.

Pratt is an old-time resident of the Yukon and Alaska. He had gone north to follow up a prospect which he found on Jack Wade Creek eight years ago.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE'S ELECTION IS NOW PRACTICALLY ASSURED

Tabulated Returns Show That Republicans Already Have More Than Sufficient to Elect in College

WASHINGTON STATE GIVES ENTIRE SUPPORT TO CHIEF

Lady Democratic Candidates for Governor's Chair in States of Wyoming and Texas Secure Lead

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Early today Mr. Coolidge apparently had secured a commanding plurality in the following states: Connecticut, 7; Delaware, 3; Illinois, 29; Iowa, 13; Kansas, 10; Kentucky, 13; Maine, 6; Maryland, 8; Massachusetts, 18; Michigan, 15; Nebraska, 8; New Hampshire, 4; New Jersey, 14; New York, 45; Ohio, 4; Oregon, 5; Pennsylvania, 38; Rhode Island, 5; Utah, 4; Vermont, 4; total, 273. (The figures are electoral votes.)

This includes same states in which the returns still are far from complete, but in which the condition of the count or concessions of political leaders of the opposition point to a Coolidge victory.

In addition, the Republican presidential nominee was leading in totals compiled early today in Arizona, with three electoral votes, California, 13; Colorado, 6; Idaho, 4; Indiana, 15; Minnesota, 12; Montana, 4; Nevada, 3; North Dakota, 3; South Dakota, 3; Washington, 7; West Virginia, 5; and Wyoming, 3. But in none of these states had a sufficient number of precincts returned to make the outcome certain. The number necessary to elect is 285.

John W. Davis Lead

John W. Davis at the same hour and on the same basis appeared to have gained a safe lead in the following states, with the following electoral votes: Alabama, 12; Arkansas, 9; Florida, 6; Georgia, 14; Louisiana, 10; Mississippi, 10; North Carolina, 12; Oklahoma, 10; South Carolina, 9; Tennessee, 12; Texas, 20; Virginia, 12; total, 146.

In addition, Mr. Davis was leading on the face of incomplete returns in New Mexico, with three votes. He led in Missouri, with eighteen, until early today, when the President took a slight lead.

Coolidge Leads 13 to 1

MONTREAL, Nov. 4.—President Calvin Coolidge's own state, where he was born and reared, gave him a tremendous vote today. The President was received by more than half of the 248 towns and cities already tabulated, was running five to one ahead of John W. Davis and more than twenty to one ahead.

The convicts were in a weakened condition and their names could not be learned. When taken into custody they offered no resistance. In the box with the convicts were found two chains, two knives and one black-jack.

VANCOUVER TO LEASE CAPALINO TIMBER

Mayor Owen Suggests City Apply for Ninety-Nine Year Agreement at Nominal Rental

VANCOUVER, Nov. 4.—That the city acquire all the unalienated timber on the Capalino watershed at a nominal annual rent, say of $1, in the substance of a resolution submitted to the meeting of the city council this afternoon by Mayor W. R. Owen. The application would be for a ninety-nine year lease and Mayor Owen states he has reason to believe the government will be disposed to look favorably upon the application. "The use of water by the shipping which enters and leaves the port of Vancouver makes the question of a water supply a provincial rather than a civic question," the mayor declared. "The provincial government should be interested in developing this supply upon the application of Vancouver as a port depends in large measure the success of British Columbia."

OTTAWA, Nov. 4.—Eight and a half per cent more children between the ages of five and nineteen years attended school in 1921 than in 1911, according to a bulletin just issued. New Brunswick, Quebec, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, in the order named, showed the largest proportion of the school age as not having attended school.

INDICATIONS GIVE OVER 300 VOTES IN COLLEGE

Campaign Managers Claim a Landslide That Will Eclipse the Harding Victory of Last Contest

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—At 2 o'clock this morning President Coolidge was maintaining his advantage in the East and Middle West and had established leads in the country beyond the Mississippi, which, if maintained, would give him an overwhelming majority in the electoral college with a total running over 300 votes.

John W. Davis had to his credit only the states of the ultra-Democratic South, but was leading also in Oklahoma, Missouri and Tennessee, all carried by Harding in the 1920 Republican landslide. He also had a slight margin in New Mexico, but had surrendered the lead to Coolidge in Kentucky in a nip-and-tuck race.

La Follette Leads in One State

Senator La Follette was leading only in his home state of Wisconsin, although his managers insisted that his full strength would be developed only after the still missing vote of the rural districts of the West has been counted. Iowa, which La Follette had hoped to win, has been conceded to Coolidge by La Follette headquarters in Des Moines. In Minnesota, with only a small proportion of the vote reported, Coolidge was leading the Wisconsin Senator by 10,000. The President also had a lead of more than 100,000 over both Davis and La Follette in California, with about one-fourth of the state reported.

LIQUOR BOARD CHANGE HINTED

MAY BE REMOVED FROM THE POLITICAL ARENA

Mr. Hugh Davidson, New Administrator, May Come Under Control of Legislature

Indications of a change in the authority of the administration of the Government's liquor system were contained in the speeches of both Mr. Colley and Mr. Winch when they spoke in reply to the Speech from the Throne in the British Columbia Legislature yesterday. It is felt that a move is under way to remove Mr. Hugh Davidson, of Vancouver, recently appointed sole head of the administration of the Government's liquor business, from the possibility of interruption or possibly control of politics, and that, with this end in view, his office will be placed under the jurisdiction of the Legislature in future. Mr. Colley said in his address that "many changes were under consideration regarding the Liquor Control Board, to be far removed from political influence in the future." Dr. Winch also touched upon the question and hinted in hazy fashion that the recent re-nomination made by Attorney-General Manson would be followed by a change in the method of directing the administration.

FISH TRAPS CASE IS ADJOURNED DAY

MAGISTRATE JAY TAKES DISLIKE TO COD

City and Province Held by Defence Counsel to Be Without Authority Over Waters of Harbor

The case against On Gock, charged in the city police court yesterday with illegal methods of handling fish, was adjourned until today by Magistrate Jay at the request of Mr. C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor, who said he had time to consider the authorities advanced by defence counsel, Mr. Frank Higgins, K.C.

According to the evidence, the traps or crates used by Chinamen to hold fish in the inner harbor at the foot of Herald Street until delivered to dealers, have all been emptied pending the outcome of the case.

The magistrate ventured the prophecy that he would abstain from cod-fish in the future. "I'm very fond of cod, but I do not think I'll want any more," he said.

Dr. Price, City Health Officer, in describing the crates that he had been called upon to inspect about two weeks ago, when he was shown traps that neither he nor the sanitary inspector had known were in use, under floats used by Chinese dealers, said that he found fish whose eyes were milky. Some of them were dead and some were unfit for food. There was still life in the fish, he said, and some were in fairly good shape.

Constitutional Point

The case is a test of rights that the city may have in dealing with such practices. Mr. Harrison preferred to make the test under an Order in Council passed by the Provincial Government as a health measure rather than under the city by-law that prohibits the use of crates for the holding of live fish.

The prosecution was met by the contention that the Province itself did not have any authority in this matter. Mr. Higgins, for the Chinaman charged, took the ground that the regulations passed by the Provincial Government applied only to waters coming under the jurisdiction of the Province of British Columbia. The harbor of Victoria, in common with other harbors so used in the Confederation, were specifically held not to be provincial waters, but under Dominion authority. He further contended that while this Order in Council, put forth as ground for the action, while pretending to be a health regulation, was in reality one dealing with fishing. The Government, he contended, could not do indirectly what it could not do in a direct way.

Opinions Differ

Dr. Price condemned the method of keeping fish alive in the waters of the harbor in the way described. He would not object so much to keeping them in open water for a time.

Whenever he went there and found fish in crates, he had liberated them, Mr. Thomas Lancaster, Sanitary Inspector, said that on all occasions previous to the last, he had found the fish in good condition. He was of the opinion himself that this was a better way of keeping fish than by means of ice.

In this particular instance, about two weeks ago, Mr. C. Chingrains, who had said that he always insisted upon getting fresh fish that had just been taken from boats and turned over to dealers, had made a complaint to the health officers, and had undertaken to show them fish unfit for human use. Inspection had been made, and crates of which the Inspector had been unaware were found with boards nailed over them.

The accused Chinaman, On Gock, explained that he had the habit of buying fish from Japanese and others, and having them delivered to his boat on the fishing grounds or at the wharves. He contended that he did not keep fish longer than about two days in these crates.

Mr. D. R. Harris, civil engineer, gave evidence for the defence, setting out the location of the floats which, he said, were not within the city of Victoria, but within the harbor of Victoria.

Evangelist's Appeal Awakens Conscience of Female Listener, Who Poets Police as to Gang

ELMIRA, N. However, when the evangelist declared that "no person in whose heart reposes guilty knowledge need expect to make peace with God until confession is made," a woman went to police headquarters and told the astonished night captain that she wished to confess her knowledge of robberies in which she had no part but that she had continued to shield those hear and dear to her.

During the following three days arrests were made in every section of Elmira and nearby towns, express and Lackawanna Railway employees being taken into custody, and goods valued at nearly $5,000 recovered.

NEW YORK.—If science can discover some method of stimulating mental growth, the elephant would take a position next to man as a poet, musician and philosopher.

This is the belief of Lorenz Hasenbeck, wild animal dealer of Hamburg, who arrived on the liner Albert Ballin. Next to elephants in intelligence, he said, would come monkeys and dogs. Hasenbeck has come to this country to sell a baby elephant of 700 pounds which will weigh two tons when full grown, and numerous other animals. Here is his price list:

Rhinoceros, $10,000; Bengal tigers, $1,500 to $5,000; elephants, $1,000 to $1,500.

Telephone subscribers may use their phones at home against a monthly fee for the opera service. When the subscriber, who listens to grand opera is waited by another subscriber, the exchange interrupts the entertainment for the duration of the conversation. The transmission is entirely over wires and has nothing to do with radio. Subscribers, however, are allowed to hook up amplifier units and loudspeakers, as used in the radio field.

LONDON.—London's oldest cab driver, Joe Minion, who has been sixty years on the box, and whose greatest pride is the fact that the late King Edward was for years one of his regular "fare".

Motorization of the means of transportation in London has left old Joe almost without employment, and he talks jauntily of acquiring a taxicab. Asked for his opinion of the taxi, the aged cabbie said reflectively:

"They have driven us off the streets in the same way the buses are driving them. Off. And as for the traffic, we'll soon have to start borrowing underground. Give me the old days with clear streets and a smart horse, and time for a nap on the box if you liked."

ARBITRATOR QUERIED AS TO HIS AWARD

Trail Property Owner Seeks Reason for Award Differing from Amount Awarded Two Claimants

VANCOUVER, Nov. 4.—Whether an arbitrator can be questioned about his award is a point upon which Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald has reserved judgment.

After more than four years' consideration, Judge Forin, of Nelson, rendered a decision in claims pending against the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company for damages occasioned by its Trail smelter. The claimants were owners of land which had been affected by the smelter fumes. The arbitrator, Judge Forin, awarded the claimants a sum of money for a perpetual easement to the company for its noxious gases.

The matter came before Mr. Justice McDonald as an appeal by one claimant, Robert W. Fox, who received $256 compensation. His counsel proposed asking Judge Forin how he distinguished between Fox's land, which was inside Trail, and between that of another, Kenderby, outside the town, so as to be able to award Kenderby $11,000 damages, and Fox $256.

E. P. Davies, K.C., for the Consolidated Company, contended that the question was not permissible.

CLAIM PRESENTED BY MARTIN ESTATE

One Million Dollars Owing by Defendant Company Subject of Court Application

VANCOUVER, Nov. 4.—At the suggestion of Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald, a petition to approve a settlement of a claim by the Joseph Martin estate against the defunct Fleming Coal Company was withdrawn today by J. A. McGee.

This course was followed after W. J. Taylor, K.C., on behalf of Mrs. Emily Field, a beneficiary of the Martin estate, objected. His objection was that application under the Trustee Act should be made to a designated judge of the Supreme Court and not to the court itself as had been done in this case.

The matter will come up for hearing on November 13.

The settlement proposed is that the estate's claim for over $1,000,000 should be paid by accepting 34.3% of money realized from the sale of the company's assets, being coal properties near Merritt. A sale is contemplated for $70,000, and $50,000 of this would be available for distribution among creditors.

Mrs. Field is a large beneficiary, and indications are that the estate will be worth about $50,000.

VOICES FAITH IN DESTINY OF B.C.

Member for Kamloops Commends Government on Accomplishments of Past and Outlook for Future

SEES BIG PROGRESS IN INDUSTRY OF B.C.

Development of Lumber Business, Fisheries, Agriculture and Mining Is Emphasized in Speech in Legislature

OPTIMISM in regard to the future and commendation based on the accomplishments of the past were contained in large measure in the address delivered in the House yesterday by Mr. James E. Colley, government member for Kamloops, in reply to the Speech from the Throne. Mr. Colley dealt at length with development which had taken place in many branches of British Columbia's life and business during 1923. Forest production reached record figures in that year, he said. Forest revenue in 1923 was the greatest ever recorded in the Province, and the cost of government administration was the lowest on record in proportion to revenue collected. Export trade had reached a height never before attained, he said.

Reduction of transportation rates on grain for export shipped via the Pacific Coast had had a great bearing on the growth of industry, Mr. Colley said. In 1921, before any reduction of rates was made, there passed through the government elevator at Vancouver 501,221 bushels of grain. In 1922, after the government had won its first reduction in rate, the shipment proper to the Pacific Coast had grown to 19,155,066 bushels, he said, and in 1923, after the second rate reduction had become effective, shipments of grain had risen to 54,735,243. Last season, 9,608 vessels entered the port of Vancouver, an increase of nearly three thousand over the previous year.

"I contend that what builds up the Coast builds up the whole Province," the member for Kamloops continued. To illustrate, my own city, Kamloops, is a railway center. Our railroad men, prior to this great movement of grain, were mostly laid off in the winter, but with the advent of this grain movement they were soon complaining of too much work and could not even keep their feet.

"What builds up the Coast sections of the Province builds up the interior, and finally the whole of British Columbia, and in the process contributes to the prosperity of Canada. The Pacific Coast route is one wholly Canadian, and I hope we have witnessed for the last time that 'horrible humiliating spectacle' of the toll of $30,000,000 that our friends across the border have been able to take from the handling of our wheat through American ports. The gain of British Columbia in the loss of the United States, and it is no wonder that they shouted in Buffalo: 'Who is this man Oliver? We wish him all success in his continued efforts.'"

Lumbering Industry
Referring to the growth in the basic industry of lumbering in British Columbia, Mr. Colley stated that the cut of wood products for the past year was 2,600,000,000 feet, or twenty-five per cent greater than the boom year of 1920. Compared to previous years the industry rose forty-five per cent with a value to the Province of $45,000,000. The water-borne trade practically had doubled itself in 1923, he asserted. Approximately 500,000,000 feet of sawn lumber was produced, of which the United States had taken half. Japan was the next biggest purchaser. He believed that the lumber production of the Province was being well maintained this year. Revenue royalties collected during 1923 had reached the largest total on record, he said, $2,790,407. Cost of administration had been cut nearly in half. "Consequently from 1913 to 1917 had been thirty-four per cent of total revenue, but in 1923 costs had dropped to 17.5 per cent.

In 1923, 2,521,000,000 feet of timber had been cut, said Mr. Colley, and of this total, 2,238,000,000 feet of timber had been manufactured in the Province. Operating sawmills had numbered three hundred and fifty-two, an increase over the previous year of sixty.

Educational Review
Mr. Colley mentioned the work being accomplished in the Province of the educational survey board, and the reasons which had actuated the Government in calling the organization into existence. The object and aim of the board was to make a careful survey of the whole educational machinery with a view to improving the system and lessening the cost of education to the Government and to the local districts.

Industry and payrolls had shown a healthy growth, Mr. Colley declared. This growth was shown by the returns made to the Department of Labor. In 1921, returns made totalled 2,275; in 1922, 3,809; and in 1923, 3,275. Salaries and wages had grown from $86,192,190 in 1922 to $106,796,958 in 1923, including wages paid under the heading of semi-industrial establishments, the 1923 total was $145,000,000.

In connection with coast shipping, wages had increased $1,000,000 in 1923 over 1922, due largely by the increased shipments of grain. Other increases included one of $1,000,000 in the payrolls of contracting groups, while metal mining had a gain of $1,000,000 in payrolls of nearly $2,000,000, and smelting, $350,000.

Member Is Challenged

Major R. Burde, Alberni, challenged the accuracy of figures submitted by the member of the reply to the Speech from the Throne, and on a point of order asked for his authority for figures quoted, particularly that one dealing with the increase credited to contracting groups. Mr. Colley answered that all his figures had been obtained from the Government records.

"That is not good enough," returned Major Burde. "I want your specific authority and I maintain that I have a right to demand it. You can't come into this House and give us a lot of talk and figures which for all I know, are correct, but may be inaccurate. What is your authority?"

The member for Kamloops remarked that it was a good thing he was good natured. The observation seemed to settle the member for Alberni, and he took the occasion to inform the House that he, as a veteran in the British Columbia Legislature, looks for sufficient respect from the young members to have his questions answered.

Oriental Workers

The percentage of Orientals employed in British Columbia was the lowest recorded in the past six years, Mr. Colley went on. In 1918 Orientals formed 20.37 per cent of the total of male industrial workers, whereas in 1923 they had constituted 13.85 per cent. In the sawmills the percentage had declined from 39.82 in 1922, to 32.95 in the same period of time. Licenses had been reduced from 1,389 two years ago to 1,193 in 1923.

Agriculture
The value of agriculture products in the Province ranked second to that of timber, said Mr. Colley. In 1918, agriculture products had been valued at $22,188,915, and there had been no surplus for export. In 1923, production had increased to a valuation of $59,159,798, and exports had amounted to $5,886,872. The average increase in the production of the ten principal items was over 100 per cent, said the speaker.

Substantial growth had also occurred in the production of small fruits, he said. The British Columbia Berrygrowers' loan guaranteed showed co-operation between the growers and the Government, he asserted. The action had inspired confidence and had assisted the growers at a most critical time. The loan made was being fast repaid, and he expected that before the session ended it would be entirely cleared off.

Mr. Colley referred to the success which had attended the display of British Columbia products, timber, agricultural, mineral and horticultural, at the Winnipeg Exhibition.

The Proper Economy

Dealing with estimates of revenue and expenditure which will come under the consideration of the House during the discussion on the budget, Mr. Colley declared his belief that they would show a desire for economy.

"We must beware of a false economy, however," he said. "Economies can create stagnation. We want an economy that will create production, thus increasing wealth. A government must function and not become dormant. Proper expenditures are justified to build up our country, and what we require is a greater faith in British Columbia, and a greater faith in those things which British Columbia produces. If the Province of British Columbia would demand British Columbia products first, watch British Columbia grow!"

"We need, too, a greater faith in our public men, and less scandalizing where they are concerned. Some of the honorable opposition members may have faith in the Province, but I look on this side of the House and see with pleasure members whom I have known a long time in municipal life, and with whom I have had long business connections. On the other side of the House I see others, and the same applies to them. Am I to lose that confidence in my associations with you, that you are taking your seats in this assembly to bring legislation designed to benefit British Columbia? I think not."

Financial Situation
In conclusion, Mr. Colley referred to the financial situation of the Province, and declared that of all the provinces in the Dominion, none ranked higher. In comparison, he said that the Province of Ontario had three times the debt of British Columbia and possessed not half the amount of sinking funds held by this Province.

The Session

Already in the Doldrums—
Debate on the "Speech"
Some Justifiable Pointing With Pride—
Mr. Colley and Dr. Winch—
That Somewhat Precarious Majority—

The Press Gallery, Tuesday.

The ship of state, only one day out from port, with all sails drawing and a following wind, ran bang slap into the doldrums today. Yesterday's session, everything had the golden virtue in it of being short and snappy. Today it was some ceremony and no color. Yesterday—if the phrase may pass in matters of such dignity—everything had the golden virtue in it of being short and snappy. Today, while there was a trifle of snappiness when one honorable member audibly criticized another honorable member as a purveyor of "bunk," nothing was short. In sum, the House entered upon that sort of a functions and prerogatives known as the Debate on the Speech from the Throne; and as to such exercises, to quote the hon. member for Tod (Island), "the least said the soonest mended."

The hon. member aforesaid, who spends much of his time in the House lobby—and was generally to be found in that place any time while the House was sitting in the last ten years—was wearily resigned in this matter of the debate on the Speech. Everybody deplored the waste of public time consumed in it, he intimated; but, equally, nobody would be happy unless he had his fling at it. "It's like the measles," he said; "every young session has to catch it and get over it." He announced his intention of camping out in the lobby, "until the House gets down to business."

Hon. Premier Oliver, still wearing the red flower of a blameless political life, but no longer arrayed yesterday, in the full statesmanlike panoply of expensive frock coat, expressed the alleged earnest desire of the Government side of the House that hon. members would forego any unusual delights in unrestricted oratory. Mr. R. H. Pooley, not to be outdone in this preference for action over speech-making, expressed the earnest desire of the loyal opposition for an early period to decorative debate. Honorable members applauded with much heartiness. "Yes," said the honorable member for Mary Todd Island, "that's what they all say, every time, but I'll bet you anything you like we don't see the end of this debate inside of the next three weeks." The Premier had been speaking with almost dead emotion on the special desirability that it should be found possible for honorable members to conclude their lengthy labors in the House for Christmas dinner in the bosoms of their respective families.

The mover and seconder of the reply to the Speech, both evincing a commendable desire to set a good example in this matter of decorative speeches. It was for both of them their maiden appearance and utterance in the House. Both evinced a modest nervousness in this, their first essay in the dignified role of lawgiver. But there were no such certain conventional notions which no self-respecting debate on the "Speech" could be happy without. Honorable ministers must be congratulated—strictly in accordance with memoranda supplied to the mover and seconder by the honorable ministers in question—on the unparalleled efficiency and competency shown in the administration of their departments. Then it was necessary, also, that both mover and seconder should point with justifiable pride to his respective constituency, which which was, it seemed, without derogation of any other part of this Province of boundless opportunities and limitless resources, the essential Eden of British Columbia. Hon. mover and hon. seconder were every-where, and they were everywhere themselves in these essentials like very veterans.

Mr. James H. Colley, Mayor of Kamloops, and Liberal member for that riding, was entrusted with the task of opening the debate. Mr. Colley is tall, dark, still, and dignified, and despite a slight thinning of hair over his high forehead, he delivered his speech in rounded periods. He betrayed a slight nervousness, but only slight; and he managed to ignore the objections of the honorable member for Alberni to the violation of House rules contained in an alleged readiness of the speaker, John Oliver, to find a marked recent improvement in the industrial condition of the province. He attributed to the freight rates case, and it was no wonder, he thought, that statesmen in the United States were asking who was the man Oliver. Mr. Colley achieved real eloquence when he asked honorable members to concur with him while he pointed with pride to the sinking fund. This was a magnificent opportunity to look at Mr. Colley thought, and outside investors, it seemed, were so enamored of the sight of it that they were coming into the province and investing their money in all directions.

Mr. Colley sat down on the heels of a proposition in which he extolled his own Kamloops as the city of sunshine, "which ought really to be the capital of the Province, Mr. Speaker," and Dr. H. C. Winch, Liberal member for Skeena, rose to second the reply. The doctor made a good impression. He is in the middle years, grey-haired, and he looks squarely and benignly on all men through his doctor's spectacles. Dr. Winch, early in his speech, betrayed the prepossessions of his profession, but the House liked him none the less for it. "He is a good citizen," was the way the honorable member for Mary Todd Island summed up the doctor in the minds and hearts of his colleagues. The doctor considered the functions of government in relation to the physical, mental, moral and material needs of the people; and he said, no matter who might disagree with him, that government nowadays could not neglect its responsibilities for the morals of the people. Thus he defended the proposal of the Government to regulate horse racing in the Province. There was no audible dissent; but it was observed that Hon. T. G. Coventry, sitting opposite, immediately began to take notes with great thoughtfulness of manner. Mr. Coventry is a Conservative member for Nanaimo.

and the recent promoter of the new race course at Colwood.

Dr. Winch likewise achieved eloquence in the subject of his own district. He would not claim that Skeena was the banana belt of the Province, but short of that it was everything else that was fair and desirable. Why, Mr. Speaker, even Ursus Kermodei, the little white bear who now lives in Beacon Hill Park, had been caught on an island belonging to that riding. When the road to Hazelton was completed, the doctor hoped that honorable members would all go up to Skeena, and view its cattle upon the plains, and its Ursus Kermodei in its native habitat, and he managed to ignore the objections of the honorable member for Alberni to the violation of House rules contained in an alleged readiness of the speaker, John Oliver, to find a marked recent improvement in the industrial condition of the province. He attributed to the freight rates case, and it was no wonder, he thought, that statesmen in the United States were asking who was the man Oliver. Mr. Colley achieved real eloquence when he asked honorable members to concur with him while he pointed with pride to the sinking fund. This was a magnificent opportunity to look at Mr. Colley thought, and outside investors, it seemed, were so enamored of the sight of it that they were coming into the province and investing their money in all directions.

Early in the session as it is, one or two matters of personal interest begin to take shape and declare themselves. One of these is the fact that Mr. Speaker is not going to take very long to feel at home in his authoritative chair. Mr. Buckingham looks the part. He fills his robes. The honorable member for Mary Todd Island, an admitted pundit, declares that the Speaker's robes do not less become Mr. Buckingham than he becomes them. That seems to be the general opinion. There is another thing. Mr. Speaker is a big man with a small voice. Mr. Speaker, when he was a private member, was never a speaker. But if his voice is small, it is not weak. He is likely, so it is generally thought, to maintain the dignity of the House without need of excessive restraint to his formidable powers of restraint.

There is still another thing bones already on the legislative horizon. It is that the fire of the honorable member for Alberni is not to be repressed in deference to the feelings of a government with a somewhat precarious majority. It is not suspected that Major Richard Burde is harboring sinister designs on that modest possession of the Liberal party; but it is noticeable that the interjections of the honorable member for Alberni are tolerated on the Government benches with a distinguished gentility. "You'll see," said the honorable member for Mary Todd Island, "they'll handle him with gloves. They've got to, bless their hearts; he might turn round and vote against 'em."

Toronto Declines Gasoline Business

WOULD PROTECT WHITE GIRLS FROM ORIENTALS

Deputation of Vancouver Women to Meet Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith in Victoria Today

Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, one of the Liberal members for Vancouver, will receive a deputation of women representing the Scottish Societies of the Terminal City today relative to proposed legislation giving more and better protection to white girls working in establishments where Orientals are also employed. The delegation, it is reported, will urge the Vancouver women to bring forward a bill covering their views. It is thought probable that the request grew from the Janet Smith case of Vancouver, which has for weeks been a matter of keen interest in all parts of British Columbia.

REDUCE PRICE OF GASOLINE IN CITY

The second cut in the price of gasoline within the past month was made yesterday, when the three big companies reduced their prices 1½ cents a gallon here and in Vancouver. The new price, which went into effect yesterday morning, is 23½ cents a gallon. In Vancouver, the price is 24½ cents. Both these prices include a three-cent Government tax. The cut in British Columbia is an aftermath of the reduction in the basic price by California refineries last week. Recently a cut of three cents a gallon has been made in retail prices in the American states and in Alaska. The Seattle price, including a two-cent state tax, is now eighteen cents a gallon.

Sum of Two Thousand Dollars Still to Be Secured Before Contract Can Be Let

In order that the contract for the granite pedestal may be let to a Victoria firm, the sum of $2,000 is still necessary. An appeal is made to all who have not yet subscribed to call or send their donations to 1165 Government Street within the next few days.

Victorians thus have a chance not only of showing their gratitude to those who died for them, but of securing the certainty of work for some of their fellow-citizens during the coming winter.

ASKS INFORMATION ABOUT WATERSHED

CAPILANO TENDERS ARE SUBJECT OF INQUIRY

Conservative Leader Asks About Removal of Public Works Offices From Equinault

Questions covering a considerable variety of ground were placed in the hands of the Speaker yesterday for answers on Thursday. Mr. R. H. Pooley, Conservative leader, wanted to know the total cost of moving the Public Works offices and buildings from Head Street, Equinault, to Langford, with details as to moving, cost of new buildings, and the price paid for land. The question was directed to Hon. Dr. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works.

Colonel Lister, Creston, wants Hon. Mr. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, to tell him if the Government called for tenders for the sale of timber on the Capilano watershed, and if so, when, what tenders were received, and if any tender was accepted.

Mr. J. H. Schofield, Roseland-Trail, asked a host of questions. First, to the Attorney-General, did the Government employ Mr. S. S. Taylor, K.C., formerly of Vancouver, in connection with the drafting of the Government Liquor Act? If yes, when was he employed? Mr. Schofield also wants to know what work Mr. Taylor did in connection with the Act, and how much money he got for his services. From the Minister of Public Works, the member for Roseland-Trail wants answers for the following: Who was the contractor engaged in the construction of the Science Building of the University at Point Grey? What was the price shown by his tender, or was it a cost-plus contract? Was the work carried out to the satisfaction of the department? Have any difficulties arisen by reason of the water seepage through the joints of the stone used in constructing the building? If so, what steps were taken to remedy the defect? Who did the work and what was the cost of it? How many inspectors are engaged in the supervision of the construction of the building? What are their names and what salaries are they paid? From the Attorney-General Mr. Schofield desires the following information: Has any sum of money been paid to Mr. R. E. Pooley, who was in connection with work done by him in the freight rates case?

Mr. R. H. Pooley wants to know from the Minister of Finance the amount of the gross debt of British Columbia on November 1, 1924; what was the net debt of the Province on the same date, after deducting the amount in hand at that date; what amount is now owing to the Canadian Bank of Commerce for money borrowed on treasury bills; when did such bills first appear; how much money was borrowed by the Government from any other bank or from any other source on treasury bills, and at what amount; and what amount for borrowing purposes under the various loan acts and other acts passed by the Legislature?

CHURCH UNION BILL WILL BE INTRODUCED

North Okanagan Member Gives Notice of Bill to Serve the Fruitgrowers

Brig-Gen. V. W. Odium (Vancouver) presented to the Legislature yesterday the petition asking for leave to introduce the Church Union Bill, over which the rival forces are lining up already for a bitter fight.

Mr. A. O. Cochrane (North Okanagan) also served notice of a private bill sought by the Associated Growers of British Columbia, who find that owing to one or two little irregularities growers who have signed contracts to dispose of their fruit through the co-operative association break their contracts. They ask the Legislature to validate these contracts notwithstanding the irregularities.

MR. CARL PENDRAY ENTERS FOR MAYOR

MAKES FORMAL ANNOUNCEMENT OF CANDIDATURE

Latest Development in Municipal Elections Is Young Men's State for City Council

A three-cornered contest for mayoralty honors at the forthcoming December elections is now forecasted following Mr. J. Carl Pendray's announcement yesterday that he would stand for election.

Alderman Christie and Mr. Pendray have both definitely announced their intention of running for the office, and it is thought that Alderman Surgeon's decision to become a candidate is just a matter of time.

Alderman Harvey has withdrawn his name. He will, however, run for alderman again, he told The Colonist last night.

The latest development in the municipal elections field is the preparation of a young men's state by a group of the youngest business men of the city. Names prominently mentioned in this connection yesterday included Trustee P. R. Brown, Alderman R. B. H. Ker, and Messrs. M. P. Elmer, J. B. Clearhouse and Mark Graham.

Mr. Pendray, well-known as president of two local manufacturing companies, and as president of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, made his formal announcement yesterday to a group of leading citizens, who agreed to take charge of his campaign.

Not Ambitious
Addressing them, he declared that he was not ambitious for municipal honors, but for the welfare and prosperity of the city. His chief object, he said, would be to remove the burden of excessive taxation which was stifling the city. To attain this end, he would strive to handle the city's revenues so that the millions now sunk in them would be realized to the benefit of the property owners. If he could turn the liability into an asset, and, as a business man he believed he could, he felt that he would very materially have helped Victoria along the road to real prosperity.

His general policy would be a business administration, combining efficiency with economy. He would leave no stone unturned to develop industries here.

He had never approved of the suggestion to raise a mill rate for the purpose of supplying funds to the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau. A vote of from $25,000 to $35,000 a year was ample for the effective conduct of the work of the bureau.

Mr. Brown Decided
Trustee P. R. Brown said yesterday that he had not definitely made up his mind to accede to the request of his supporters that he enter the aldermanic race. Mr. Brown has served for three years on the School Board. He says that if he should be elected to the council he would continue on both boards until his term as trustee expires next year. There are still some outstanding necessities which he wishes to assist in bringing to a completion, he says.

Mr. Brown headed the polls at the last election for school trustees. He is a native son of Victoria and is a member of the firm of P. R. Brown & Sons. He is in favor, he says, of the strictest economy without the impairment of efficiency.

Mr. J. Lytton Mars declared yesterday that, after having been approached by the young men's party, he is giving every consideration to the request that he run for alderman. He expects to come to a definite decision shortly. Mr. Mars is a native son of the Province and has been in the brokerage business here for a number of years. As a director of several well-known local companies he is vitally interested in the promotion of industries.

The Local Council of Women has asked Mrs. H. W. Graves, for the past five years secretary of the Library Board, to stand for school trustee. Mrs. Graves said yesterday that she had not come to a decision.

Trustee H. O. Littlefield, who resigned after this year, said yesterday that he would formulate his plans after next week's meeting of the School Board.

Murderous Gamekeeper Indicted
GROUING, Ont., Nov. 4.—William J. Crossen, gamekeeper on the estate of William J. Crossen, Baltimore, was yesterday indicted before Mr. Justice Wright on charges of the wilful murder of B. A. McCordan, Toronto, and the shooting of Edward Rowe, of Hamilton Township, with intent to do grievous bodily harm.

STOP CHINAMAN TRYING TO LAND

Another Case of Alleged Illegal Attempt to Enter Canada Is Now in Court

The Dominion Immigration Department has another case before the court of alleged attempt on the part of a Chinaman to enter the country illegally. The present case differs somewhat from that of the ten who were found guilty a few weeks ago inasmuch as in the present instance the accused is charged with attempting to make his entry by means of a bona fide card issued by the immigration officials but that the bearer is not the proper man to have it. In the former cases the accused Chinamen had made use of forged cards resembling the bona fide ones fairly closely.

The case is to come up in the police court this morning. Mr. J. B. Clearhouse appearing for the Immigration Department. The charge is laid by Mr. K. N. Reid, who has charge of the Chinese immigration.

The card borne by the Chinaman bore the name of Chu Tong Mow. The accused, it is alleged, is not this person at all, but rejoices in the name of Chu Tong Gang or Chu Gun Yuen.

SLEEP WAS STRANGER TO E. E. BRADSHAW

Toronto Man Was Near Nervous Breakdown When He Took Tanlac.

Edison E. Bradshaw, painting and decorating contractor, 159 Bieseker St., Toronto, Ontario, Canada, is another grateful beneficiary of the Tanlac treatment. In telling his experience recently Mr. Bradshaw says:

"Before I took Tanlac I was suffering seriously from nervous prostration. I was so nervous I could seldom sleep. The slightest exertion made my heart palpitate, and my breathing difficult. Burning pains in my stomach tortured me for hours at a time, dizzy spells disturbed me, and my blood seemed out of order.

"With my second bottle of Tanlac I began to feel relief all round. With the seventh bottle my stomach is all right again, my heart action is normal, my nerves are steady, and, in fact, I feel like a brand new man."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

LOCAL BOYS' BOARD NAMES ITS OFFICERS

On Monday evening an organization meeting of the Local Boys' Work Board took place at the Y.M.C.A. Officially appointed representatives were present from the following churches: Wesley Methodist, Esquimalt Methodist, First Presbyterian, Reformed Episcopal, First Baptist, St. John's Anglican, St. Matthias' Presbyterian, City Temple, Metropolitan Methodist, Wilkeson Road Methodist, Centennial Methodist, and from the Y.M.C.A.

The purpose of the newly formed Boys' Work Board was briefly explained by the chairman. After the formal ratification of the constitution, an adopted at the first meeting, the election of officers resulted as follows: Chairman, Rev. R. W. Hilbert; vice-chairman, A. R. C. Hebdon; treasurer, W. T. Strath; secretary, H. C. Cross.

Some of those present suggested that one of the ways in which the board could assist was in sending speakers to churches to explain how to organize boys' work and carry out the C. S. E. T. programme. The great need of trained leaders was also referred to, and request made that the executive plan some form of training scheme for mentors and prospective leaders. Reference was made to the old provincial parliament to be held December 29, 30 and 31, in Victoria, and all groups were urged to register before November 15 in order to have the right to vote in the Provincial election.

The Lumber Trade

During the year 1923 the Japanese market absorbed over seventy per cent of the entire foreign borne shipments of lumber from the State of Washington, over sixty per cent from the State of Oregon and fifty per cent from British Columbia. As it is predicted that Japan is about to negotiate a loan from England, could not Canada arrange for a part of this loan so as to absorb a greater amount of trade relationship with Japan?

Australia, during the year 1923, purchased from the State of Washington 108,548,970 P. M. of lumber, 7,902,422 feet from British Columbia and 50,403,675 feet from Oregon, yet during the time that reciprocal arrangements were being made with Canada the supplies displayed by British Columbia was that no provision affecting our lumber was made, whereby we could have controlled that natural market.

Surely our selected authority can divert a little time from political issues to economic conditions.

Ideals of Church Union

Rev. Dr. W. H. Smith, principal of the Presbyterian College of B.C., in your issue of the 21st ult. set forth the ideals of church union. As based upon legislation which carries the property, the tradition, the heritage of the three churches of the ground of spiritual independence or the right of the church not only to determine, but to rule her doctrine and polity across the statute laws of the Dominion. In view of its larger privileges, and power of expansion, and its founded on the Lord's prayer.

Taking these ideals seriously, and with reference to the first, it does not appear to the Presbyterian tradition and heritage to seize on property bequeathed to the church, and to prevent its use in the maintenance of doctrine and polity subversive of the tradition, and heritage of Presbyterianism.

Wrong of such nature are productive of greater social disorder and danger. It is a significant omen that on the night of July 15, 1924, that of the passing of the estate and Commission at Ottawa of the Church Union bill there occurred an earthquake of widespread influence. The earthquake would seem, as at the Crucifixion, to foreshadow the Divine displeasure. In the latter event it foreshadowed the removal of the oncoming darkness of gentle medievalism. In the former it would seem to foreshadow the great calamities of revolution, wars, and the loss of civil liberty, and the rights of man, and the rights of this Dominion possessors civil liberty and property rights, on the foundation that these rights cannot be removed without the consent of the judicial tribunals of this Dominion. The exploitation of designing men, actuated by the mob spirit of selfishness and the lust for power, has led to the work of the shop, in the name of law which escapes the purview of the judicial tribunals, have in the instance brought additional suffering to man.

With reference to the second ideal, the swamping glory of a brief joy ride on the best of politics in the name of spiritual independence which determines the doctrine and polity of the church by majorities in convention will be heard and understood in the light of the end.

If wrangling of the scriptures be the work of the unlearned and unstable, the end is apparent.

The Rev. Principal sets forth the Anti-Unionist doctrine in the following bold terms: "Total depravity of man, absolute foreordination of everything that happens, predestination to a certain number to everlasting life and the predestination of a certain number of men and angels to everlasting death, a limiting of the scripture to the elect only, and the irresistible power of the Holy Spirit." If the Anti-Unionists preach the doctrine alleged by the Rev. Principal they do so in violation of the scriptures, and the doctrinal standards of Presbyterianism. If again the Rev. Principal's statement of the Anti-Union doctrine is correctly published, he stands in the unenviable position with one foot in ignorance, and the other on presumption. The Westminster Standards define total depravity in its universal aspect, which embraces all mankind in the individual aspect, pervading man's whole nature, body, soul, spirit, reduced to a state where the scripture sets forth as dead in trespasses and sins. That, in order to salvation, God of His free and sovereign mercy quickens, by His Holy Spirit, in order to enter the Kingdom of God by means of a new birth or birth from above.

The terms predestination and foreordination have been badly misused by the Rev. Principal. The doctrine of predestination is applied to the saved, never to the lost. It expresses the unconditional aspect of God's free grace. The term foreordination expresses the conditional and judicial aspect of God's dealings with fallen angels and men, having respect to this foreknowledge, and the sin, and rebellion of fallen angels and men.

God is sovereign over sin and death, and hence, as well as in holiness, chastity, and the heavenly life, this aspect of God's sovereign power was brought home to Cyrus in contradiction of Persian dualism. "I form the light and create darkness, I make peace and create evil, I, the Lord, do all these things." Isa. 45:7. The Westminster Standards establish the doctrine of limited redemption, but not of universal redemption, and not of a statement. The doctrine of irresistible or victorious grace, termed also effectual because it secures salvation, termed also irresistible because it changes the dispositions of the sinful heart or creates a new man by the washing of regeneration and renewing of the Holy Ghost, as distinguished from the common restraining influence of the Holy Ghost, which operates in all men. The perseverance of the regenerate is also taught in contrast to those who fall away and draw back to perdition. "These vital doctrines of the Presbyterian or Calvinistic body of believers," the Rev. Principal declares, "is no longer vital of the faith of the Presbyterian body who for years past declared their acceptance of no unreasonable that all branches of the Presbyterian church had given their ministers and officers a relief from subscription."

I am not aware, Mr. that the Presbyterian church the world over gave any relief from subscription to these vital doctrines. If things are as stated by the principal, true of the Presbyterian body who entered the union, it is not to be wondered that men and women are becoming lapsed, through lack of religious agencies, but through lack of religion, the absence of the mind of the Lord in the public exposition of the highly paid officials of the churches.

In the elimination of duplicating efforts permitting of expansion, all true Christians will join, provided that entrance is by the open door to those whom heaven sends. Pharisaic zeal, whether of the past or the present, leaves matters worse than they are.

Answer to the Lord's prayer that all may be one, is realizable in the measure in which the truth sanctifies, and makes free. Truth, however, cannot be circumvented by church polity. It proceeds from God alone. It proclaims His relation to, and the possession of Himself, to those whom He calls, and when they have attained to the stature of men whose understandings are enlightened, they call no man, or systems, or organizations, master. They try the spirits, and judge all things, even the ideals of Church Union, as set forth by the Rev. Principal Smith.

City Manager Plan

Some ten days ago one of your local paragraphs stated that a letter had been received at the City Hall from Norfolk, Virginia, to the effect that the commissioner-manager plan in vogue there had not been a success.

What is most needed in all matters is the truth. A copy of the paragraph was forwarded to the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce with a request for its opinion on the subject. The secretary, Mr. R. L. Gould, in a letter under date of the 27th ult., says: "I am sending you herewith a bulletin which we have issued on this subject. I am also requesting the city clerk to give you further details. Under the city manager government a decided improvement on the old form in this city, and feel that Norfolk has made great strides forward since the new government was started."

The following are extracts from the bulletin: "No city can be better governed than is the city of Norfolk. Having given commissioner-manager government the most exacting test possible, Norfolk is today more than justified in being judged by its method of administering city business. The story of Norfolk's municipal governmental achievement is a story of city operation, machinery, and the worth of results for every dollar spent; creates better living conditions; develops business, industry and port commerce; insures the application of strict business methods to every phase of municipal governmental operation; spends more and more money each year for schools, sanitation, utilities, parks, playgrounds, streets and public safety; prepares today for the anticipated development of ten or twenty years hence."

Commissioner-manager government, as it operates in Norfolk, has made a conspicuous success because it puts the community affairs above politics, business methods and practices above "expediency."

For 182 years prior to September 1, 1818, Norfolk struggled with the old council-mayor form of government in its various adaptations. During this period of bi-cameral government managed to exhibit all of its undesirable features and practically no advantages. The mayor had just power enough to further tangle the snarls that the double-barrel council generally managed to get the city's affairs into, and a bad situation was further complicated by the board of control, similar to the administrative board of some cities.

September 1, 1818, marked the beginning of a new era in community development for Norfolk. On that day the old council-mayor government was inaugurated with a council of five members, elected from the city at large, and a city manager. From the very beginning there was no basis for comparison between the old form of government and the new. It was a case of contrasts in every detail: action as contrasted with delay; results as opposed to haphazard methods; a comprehensive, logical, continuous correlated plan of community development and public interests as contrasted with the old-time policy of ward and precinct "trading" for neglected and unrelated improvements.

There are some of the outstanding differences between the old plan and the new.

But the real story is best told by the things that can be seen and participated in by every citizen, investor and visitor—miles of splendidly paved streets, parks, playgrounds, splendid schools, one of the country's finest water supplies, new city market, model municipal union terminal for the handling of ocean commerce, a modern type, better sanitation, and a great number of other improvements that have been the direct result of Norfolk's present form of government.

Under the old form of government there was a favorite indoor pastime entitled "laying it on the table." Many highly constructive propositions died a quick and comparatively painless death on this same table. Today the reverse is true. The council of five meets around a table with the city manager at least once a week, sometimes several times a week when necessary, just as would the directors and general manager of a corporation. When a matter comes up it is either disposed of at once or referred to the city manager for investigation and a later report. The city has no "backlog" of business, and the delays are expensive, and has reduced such expense to a minimum.

One of the first acts of the new government was a growing of the Norfolk Port Commission, a body of five outstanding business and transportation men who serve without salary. The next step was the "winding up" of a part of the splendid terminal constructed here during the world war by the War Department, for use as an army supply base. The commission very quickly demonstrated that the terminal would pay, and accordingly a port director was employed. The director was a man of broad experience in terminal operations, and so successful did the new municipal terminal prove that the commission proceeded with plans for the construction of a city-owned terminal and export grain elevator. Served by every railroad entering the port on an equal basis, through the medium of a belt line railroad owned jointly by the city, Norfolk lines, the Municipal Grain Elevator and the Municipal Terminal are proving tremendous factors in the development of port commerce. The activity has done as much as any other one thing, to "sell" commissioner-manager government to the people of Norfolk.

The best proof of the merits of commissioner-manager plan is shown in the remarkable increases in population in places which have adopted it.

The 1920 U. S. census gave Norfolk 115,777, now estimated at 126,000; Dayton, 152,559, now estimated at 168,000.

Freight Rates Case

Mr. McGee, who is guilty of misrepresentation. What he is doing is done in the name of British Columbia. (See Colonist 16-10-24) The Premier denies this in a letter published in The Colonist of October 19 on the ground that the C.P.R. counsel remained silent regarding Mr. McGee's arguments, which were to the effect that the C.P.R. is making money. It is not disputed that the C.P.R. is making money, and using a large proportion of its earnings to develop Canada, while the competing Government-owned and operated lines, charging the same rates, are losing in the neighborhood of 100 millions of dollars a year, which has to be found by the taxpayers.

The argument made by Mr. McGee and the Premier that because the C.P.R. is making money in the matter of competition, therefore it should be deplored is capable of extension to every successful business and is undiluted Bolshevism. Further, it might be extended to mean that the Premier owes out of his salary at the cost of the dignity of the Province.

The Premier said at Duncan that if he were unsuccessful in his appeal to the courts to get the C.P.R. to reduce its rates, that the Province was a sovereign state and could tax it out of existence. This is not understood. It is not tax it proportionately as other people's profits are taxed, but tax it out. This conforms with the Premier's confidence in the Dolly Varden legislation and flouting the Constitution Act to give money to one of his party leaders. What has become of the talked-about enquiry of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce into why capital is shy of British Columbia? Has the Editor of The Daily Times succeeded in burking it for fear that it might hurt the Premier? It is no wonder that co-incidental with the Premier's appearance in the freight rates case that almost all the provinces have come into Canada and hundreds of thousands of people are leaving it.

Although Canadian freight rates are the lowest in the world, any Province appears to have a grievance about them, but ours is the only Premier who talks Bolshevism over it. What is the use of a Court of Equity in matters of this kind? The Premier tells us that he does not want to be a Canadian. Presumably if the Premier did the fixing, then the Premier would be a Canadian. Other Provinces have been content to be represented before the Railway Commission by competent counsel whose remuneration has been around $5,000.

The Premier acts for us, reinforced by a lawyer with less experience in railway matters than he has, and on the newspaper files that Mr. Farris then Attorney-General, when engaging Mr. McGee, offered $10,000 for a day's work. Mr. McGee wanted $100 a day, with no limit to the days. Mr. Farris is reported to have said that Mr. McGee had no knowledge of the subject and that it would be a grand opportunity of cutting a figure at our expense, or something like that. Thanks in some measure to The Victoria Daily Times, Mr. McGee has had $100 a day, thus assessing the Province some $100,000. Beyond discovering to his own satisfaction that the C.P.R. built in the wrong place and is making money, he has had nothing published to show that he had added anything to what was already on file. The Premier or Mr. McGee could point to anything of material value that they have added to the many volumes on the shelves at Ottawa, there is no doubt. It will be gratefully acknowledged, if ever a subject was worn to a frazzle it must be the freight rates case.

Attempts have been made to show that the Premier's antics have resulted in large savings to the Province. What have been the results obtained by the Premier in informing us that the C.P.R. officials and counsel "are not big enough mentally or physically to cope with him?" That is a sample of the stuff the Premier has defaced our case with. Credit for reductions in freight is due to no man. They are received from justice or injustice, according as the Commission is right or wrong.

The Premier advertised during the late election asking to be returned as he was "in a favorable position to settle the freight rates because he had the ear of Mr. Mackenzie King." This was another way of saying that our rights would be granted if we saw glory to the Premier for it. But the ear of Mr. Mackenzie King has nothing to do with our case so long as the Railway Commission, which costs us $300,000 a year, functions properly.

If that Commission is permitting unjust rates, as the Premier tells us, then he should attack the Government which keeps it in operation, instead of which he supports it, and do you see that our Premier is both supporting and denouncing what he calls the iniquitous treatment of this Province. This might be called blowing hot and cold.

And now for something that you have heard of and which should be kept constantly in mind by those who desire to understand the Premier's interest in freight rates. All that has been said is that the Premier said at Cowichan: "Here I've been for forty years trying to get a position of public honor, and now my life is made miserable with all this criticism." I shall not offer any real criticism of the Premier for fear if he saw it that it might get very bad. The next step was to say himself with remarking that as a farmer he is excellent, but as a statesman he is matter in the wrong place.

At a special meeting held on Monday afternoon in the Victoria Club, with the Governor Donahoe, of Ohio, as the chair, a standing vote of sympathy was passed to Mrs. C. McLenahan in the death of her husband.

The meeting endorsed the selection of the Local Council of Women in their choice of Mrs. H. W. Graves and Miss Sara Spencer as candidates in the coming municipal contest, and the members pledged their support to the candidates.

Following the business meeting tea was served, when the guests of honor were the vice-regents of the Chapter, Lady McBride and Miss Crease.

GONZALES CHAPTER, I.O.O.F.

The regular monthly meeting of Gonzales Chapter, I.O.O.F., was held at the Hamley Building on Tuesday evening, Nov. 4. The Chapter was presided and nineteen members were present. It was with great pleasure Mrs. Genge welcomed Mrs. Kent, the late regent, who has recently returned from England.

The results of the bridge and mah jong party given last month by the Chapter in aid of the Jubilee Hospital were most gratifying, as the proceeds were $119.50.

Mrs. Kinloch gave a very interesting report of the activities of the Girl Guides. She announced the formation of another company, under the captaincy of Miss Freda Warner. On Armistice Day the Chapter will help to sell poppies, and a presentation of books will be made to the Montessori School at 2 o'clock, followed by a presentation of a picture of Jack Cornwall at 2:30 o'clock at the Willows School.

CARNIVAL BALL TO MARK HISTORIC DATE

To Celebrate Birthday of Province by Function Sponsored by Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.E.E.

To commemorate the birthday of British Columbia, members of the Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.E.E., are planning a big carnival ball to be held at the Empress Hotel on November 13. The members are making every effort to celebrate the occasion with all fitting festivities, and the ball will be held under the distinguished patronage of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Walter Nichol; Sir Frank and Lady Bernard, Senator and Mrs. Green. Pictorialque posters, the work of Mr. McMillen, will be on display, announcing the function, and tickets have already been distributed among the members, and may also be obtained from the Empress Hotel; Fletcher's music store; Clay's, Litchfield's book store, and Terry's drug stores.

In New York State, Governor Smith apparently had won a re-election over Theodore Roosevelt, whose defeat had been conceded by the Republican state chairman.

With the Governor Donahoe, of Ohio, also a Democrat, was in the line in his fight for re-election, despite an indicated heavy Coolidge majority in that state. In Illinois, Governor Small, Republican, kept a comfortable lead over his Democratic opponent. In two states, Texas and Wyoming, women candidates for Governor were ahead on the face of returns up to 2 o'clock. Both of them are Democrats and are wives of former governors of their states.

WASHINGTON FOR COOLIDGE

SEATTLE, Nov. 4.—With twenty-three out of the thirty-nine counties in this state reporting and new precincts strengthening his lead, it seemed probable tonight that President Coolidge, nominee of the Republican party, would receive the seven electoral votes of Washington. He had nearly a two-to-one lead over Senator La Follette and a six-to-one lead over John W. Davis, Democrat. Three hundred and twenty-seven precincts out of 2,437 gave Coolidge 2,692, La Follette 20,838, and Davis 6,034.

R. H. Hartley, Republican nominee for Governor, was in the lead over Hill, Democrat.

HAMILTON, Ont., Nov. 4.—George Redding, of Hamilton Tigers hockey team, is through as an amateur hockey player. His attempt to get back to the Boston professional club, failed, and Redding announced today that he would report for training at Boston on November 13. Ross was in the city today for the express purpose of informing Redding and Cooper that he intended holding them to their contracts. The Boston leader claims that Saskatoon has no claim on Cooper, and added that his club was ready to fight for the sharp-shooter. Ross left for Toronto tonight to talk things over with Harry Watson, Granite star. Watson promised Ross on Sunday that he would give him an answer in a few days, and he feels confident that the Granite flyer will sign.

Here Is Something Unique Nothing Like It on the Market

We have for sale, at Cadboro Bay, a site of about one acre, which possesses the requisites for gardens of all sorts. A high, dry building site, with a splendid view, and a moisture-seeping slope, already terraced and drained by nature.

Victoria is justly proud of her rockland gardens with their wealth of floral display, also of her noble homesites on the levels and lowlands, with the beauty of their shrubberies, trees, lawns and parks. During the long, dry summer, the upkeep and watering of the flower beds, rock gardens and lawns is an expensive item. To establish a garden for the growing of ferns and moisture-loving plants would be prohibitive in cost, and has not, so far, been attempted in the city.

This site gives an unprecedented opportunity for anyone who can realize its possibilities for establishing something quite new in the way of ferneries, rockeries and growing moisture-loving plants. Clear running springs and natural slopes and terraces are already supplied by nature.

The property adjoins the Uplands and overlooks Cadboro Bay, with its yacht club, beach and Indian fosse. It is close to the golf links, and within twelve minutes of the car.

Letters to Shooters

By Lt.-Colonel Lewis Carey

I have lately read a letter written by one, Kilbee Gordon, called Sense versus Slaughter.

It was a good letter in several respects, and one which all sportsmen should read. I must say I should have liked to have met Mr. Motley, of Rod and Gun in Canada, while he was in Victoria.

He appears to have gleaned a fair smattering of knowledge as regards game conditions in this Province. I am not going to try and point out where I think or rather where I know he is wrong. However, I will say that I entirely agree with him regarding game conservation in British Columbia. He says, or implies, that the present system is rotten, and so it is.

But what is the good of pointing out faults without giving a remedy? My brother sportsman, the remedy is in your hands, and a simple one, too. First—Divorce game conservation from politics.

Second—Game conservation should be entirely separate from the police. Third—The board and its chairman should be chosen by the sportsmen of the Province.

Fourth—All moneys derived from licences should be under the control of the board.

Fifth—Game wardens, who know their job, should be at work every day in the year.

Sixth—These game wardens to be under one head game warden, who would be responsible for all the game warden under him.

You can get all this done by putting your heads together, just in the same way as I advised you to do in a previous letter regarding public shooting grounds. You will have your chance very soon. So get to work now and waste no time.

Game conservation since 1916 has not existed.

Some of us sportsmen may have been under the impression that the game of the Province was being protected and conserved, but the majority know otherwise.

The noblest Port of them all is Convido. Its delicate bouquet and its rich, fruity taste bespeaks its 30 years' ageing.

Loss of $1,000 Mislaid Gate Money Militates Against Fine Work in Saturday's Game

If the money is not found, Argonauts will receive a staggering blow. Officials have offered a big reward for its recovery.

DICKIE CUP GOLF

Duncan and Nanaimo Teams Are All Square on Matches Played for the Year

NANAIMO, Nov. 4.—The Duncan golf team was defeated by 21 points in a return match with the local club, played here on Sunday, for the Dickie Cup, thereby halving the total of matches for this year, as the Nanaimo team which played at Duncan some three weeks ago was defeated by a similar number of points. The rules of the competition for the Dickie Cup are that 36-hole singles be played on each course each year, and the club winning by the greatest number of points two years in succession retains the cup. ### Italy Celebrates Sixth Anniversary of Armistice

ROME, Nov. 4.—Italy today celebrated the sixth anniversary of the Armistice, which concluded her share in the World War. The tomb of the Unknown Soldier was the centre of a demonstration of reverence and of reassertion of the ideals for which Italians gave their lives. Mass in the Church of Santa Maria Angeli was attended by the royal family, members of the Government and of the diplomatic corps. During the noon hour special ceremonies were held in military barracks throughout Italy and in the afternoon the various patriotic organizations made pilgrimages to the nation's shrine.

spent. Fourteen hundred pupils were enrolled in the university.

Relative to race track gambling in the Province, the speaker asserted that the question of cutting down the period of racing was under serious consideration by the Government. Huguenots felt that ten weeks racing was more than the people of the Province could stand.

Dr. Winch spoke briefly about the development of the mining industry in British Columbia. In 1923 the total output of minerals in the Province had been valued at $41,000,000, compared to a probable valuation of $11,000,000 this year. The Government, by the passage of wise legislation, had made the lot of the prospector easier, had protected the well being of miners, had afforded protection to the investing public and had encouraged to a great extent the

Dr. Winch dealt at some length with the method of operation of hospitals for the treatment of tuberculosis and mental diseases. Another philanthropic work of the Government was that connected with mothers' pensions. The undertaking had cost much money, he said, but much good work had been accomplished. Relative to the cost of administration, he pointed out that the operation of the act was carried on by three persons working under the control of the Workmen's Compensation Board.

Growth and Economy
The member for Skeena mentioned the work of consolidating the provincial statutes and pointed out that this year the cost, $19,000, had been about half that of other consolidations.

Reference to the new University of British Columbia buildings was made. The contracts had involved the sum of approximately two and a quarter millions, he said, and to date about half that amount had been wise exploitation of British Columbia's mineral wealth.

Fisheries of the Province were also mentioned. In his own district, the Skeena River had come to the front as a salmon producer, and was now looked upon as one of the greatest salmon rivers in America. If not of the world, British Columbia had last year produced 45 per cent of the fisheries products of the Dominion, he said.

Development of Resources

Relative to the development of natural resources, Dr. Winch spoke about actual progress and possibilities in his own district. Skeena contained resources, he said, which were contained to a large extent in all other districts of the Province, and in his review he mentioned minerals, timber, dairy facilities, small fruit growing, fisheries, fur production, water-power resources and, lastly, its wonderful scenery.

Future development of Skeena district depended not so much upon the influx of capital as the building of transportation systems. The district urgently required roads, bridges and railroads. In connection with roads, Dr. Winch said that if a road seventy miles long were constructed between the towns of Hope and Lytton it would be possible to drive from Vancouver for a distance of 793 miles up into the northern part of the Province. If a block of 43 miles were cut through in Omicamea district a trip of 887 miles could be made.

In concluding his address, Dr. Winch spoke of the development which was required in Pacific Coast ports in order to keep pace with development of the interior. Prince Rupert, he believed, possessed a brilliant future in this connection.

BABY PEGGY IS AT COLISEUM THEATRE

Child Star Takes Lead in "The Family Secret," Screen Version of Frances H. Burnett Story

When one sees a picture such as
"The Family Secret," his faith in the progress and future of the motion picture industry is immediately strengthened.

For in this one can see the careful planning, the building process, the gambling instinct behind the giant wheels which have pushed this industry so rapidly to the front in the commercial and artistic worlds.

Not that the picture is necessarily a marvel of creation in any sense, but the germ of a purpose is there which marks the picture as distinctly unusual.

It means that the Universal Pictures Corporation, one of the oldest and most firmly established of picture
companies, has risked many thousands of dollars on a production in which the star is a little girl five years old.

The child is Baby Peggy, a short time ago a "comedy kiddle" in Century Comedies, and now one of the most famous of child stars.

This business of featuring children
has become very popular lately, and it has dual value, for every body likes to see children on the screen, especially carefully trained youngsters with real talent.

"The Family Secret," which opened last night at the Coliseum Theatre, is a screen version of "Editha's Burglar,"
a famous novel, from which Augustus Thomas wrote his first big stage success. The picture has been built into an exceedingly entertaining drama by William Selig, the director, thanks
also to the cast, which includes Gladys
Hulette, Edward Earle and Frank Currier.

COLUMBIA Universal City's studio
Theatre, which is now showing
high in the motion picture
colony's Winter League, figures prominently in "Hit and Run," Hoot Gibson's new starring feature, which shows for the last time today at the Columbia Theatre. Some of the who support the star in the line-up
are former professionals, some of them still are, so there is plenty of the real thing in the picture. The picture was produced before the
of professional ball players in Los Angeles, who voted the battling average of the production a 1,000, both in entertainment value and fidelity to the matter of baseball atmosphere.

DOMINION There is perseverance,
and also perseverance,
but Antonio Moreno is
one of the champion perseverers of all time. He waited eight years to play the leading role in Zane Grey's
"The Border Legion," now showing at the Dominion Theatre. He told
it around the fire at the base
camp in the mountains where, with Helene Chadwick, Charles Ogle, Rock-
ette Fellows and Gibson Gowland,
he was making "The Border Legion"
for Paramount under the direction of William Howard. "Back in 1916,
when I was playing with Edna Storrey," he said, "she read the novel
and decided it would make a great picture for us. I also became tremendously interested in the picture,
and I was playing with Edna. The possibilities of the story, and have been waiting ever since for a chance to make it. "The Border Legion"
tells of a band of ruthless outlaws
who preyed upon cattle and gold
towns in the early days of the west.

CAPITOL Charles Sellen, who won fame as "the chair" grouch in both
the original stage and screen productions of "The Lion Man," has an important role in "Sundown," the big feature of the Western city country,
now showing at the Capitol Theatre.
Sellen gave up the stage to support
Halbrook Hill in Edwin Carewe's
motion picture version of the "Lion Man." Since then he has become one of the film's leading character men.
In "Sundown," he portrays the role of one of the big cattle owners who are forced by the encroachment of civilization to drive their cattle to new grazing lands in Mexico. Bessie Love, Hobart Bosworth, Charlie Murray and other favorites are in the cast.

PLAYHOUSE Aileen Pringle, who has the leading role
in Goldwyn's Rupert
Hughes picture, "True as Steel," now
showing at the Playhouse Theatre,
and who was the Queen in Elmer Glynn's production of "Three Weeks," deserted society and wealth for a screen career. Miss Pringle is a daughter of one of the wealthiest men in San Francisco and the daughter-in-law of Sir Charles M.
Pringle, a large landowner in Jamaica. She was born in San Francisco, attended a private school there and completed her education in London and Paris. She went on the stage three years ago, playing with George Arliss in "The Green God-dow," and shortly after that signed a contract with Goldwyn Pictures. She played the part of Princess Ebbell in Goldwyn's "In the Palace of the King."

BIGGEST ENGLISH
SUCCESS IN YEARS
TO BE PLAYED HERE

"Mord Em'ly," the big English comedy success, opens at the Columbia
tomorrow. "Mord Em'ly" is one of the greatest hits of recent years, having met with tremendous success in the Old Country, where it equalled
the records of such previous successes as "The Teller," "Ole and Me and My Gal." "Mord Em'ly" is the story of a young Cockney girl who lives in Pandora Mews. Mord Em'ly finds it necessary to secure a position as a housemaid general, and there the fun
commences.

Mord finds herself in the service of three prim old maids, who, to use her own expression, "give her the ump."
Mord has some hilarious and cyclonic
adventures as a servant girl, but finds herself unequal to sticking it, and forthwith she does a bunk, which lands her once more amongst her old friends on the Walworth Road. Here
she once more meets her bloke, Hat-ting "Entry" Bardon, who has earned himself a reputation as a box night

the biggest melodramatic thrills that have been staged in motion pic-

SUNDOWN IS DRAMA OF CHANGING WEST

Transformation of Cattle Ranges
Into Farm Land Marks Period
of Capital Production

It took six states to furnish the background for "Sundown," First National's epic of the cattle country,
now showing at the Capitol Theatre.
The story of "Sundown" tells of the passing of the Old West. A group of cattlemen gather and discuss the encroachment of homesteaders who have been allotted quarter
sections of land by the government.
These "nesters," as the cattlemen call
them, are gradually crowding them
out, leaving them little or no room for grazing their immense herds. A Theodore Roosevelt, President at that time, but is informed that "nothing can stop
the onrush of civilization."

Returning to their homes the cattlemen decide that they must seek new pastures.

It is the tragic story of this migration, forced upon the hardy old
pioneers by a relentless civilization,
that makes "Sundown" the most spectacular motion picture of the Old West ever filmed.

The most prominent in the cast
include Bessie Love, Hobart Bosworth, Roy Stewart, Charlie Murray, Jere Austin, Charles Crockett, Wilfred North, Charles Sellen, Arthur Hoyt and Margaret McWade.

CHARLES COURBOIN WILL PLAY WITH DETROIT SYMPHONY

Charles M. Courboin, Belgium's greatest organist, who has already commenced his transcontinental tour
of this continent, is here engaged to play with the splendid Detroit Symphony Orchestra next month. In addition to some solo groups, Mr.
Courboin will play the Sixty Symphony, written by the Detroit Symphony, a work written for the organ, but the composer made an orchestra-organ version, which is dedicated to Mr. Courboin, who has the only score of the work. Mr. Courboin is giving a special recital here
on Wednesday, November 12, at the Metropolitan Church organ. Tickets can now be had at Fletcher Bros.

IDENTIFICATION OF MURDERER CLAIMED

Vancouver Police State One Individual Has Recognized Suspect Held for Killing David Lew

VANCOUVER, Nov. 4.—Held as the suspected murderer of David Lew,
who was shot at Pender and Carrall
streets on the evening of September 24, Chong Ring, 34, arrested in Victoria Monday by Detective J. Rice, will face a number of witnesses to the tragedy in a prison line-up at police headquarters 2 p.m. today.

Police say that one identification
has already been made, but to complete the case other witnesses will be called in an effort to have them pick him out from among a number of Chinese.

Chong Ring, under the escort of Detective Rice, arrived in Vancouver at 7:15 p.m. by the steamship Princess Victoria. Inspector J. Jackson and Acting Inspector J. Thompson met the boat, and with the detective, acted as a bodyguard for the Oriental, who was rushed to headquarters, where he was booked for investigation.

At police headquarters, Dr. Lew, a brother of the slain man, waited the arrival of the prisoner, and after a brief inspection of the arrested man, voiced his hope that the ends of justice would be speeded.

Police state their belief that they have the right man under arrest and that a charge of murder will probably be laid against him today.

Sensational fiction is piled in the story of David Lew's murder and
the search for his slayer.

Chong Ring claims to have lived
forty years in Canada, but officials charge that he has only been in the country a few years, making an illegal entry by deserting from a ship.
Police claim that he was making preparations for being smuggled into the United States from Victoria, as his alleged illegal entry to Canada
would make it impossible for him to secure a passport for China.

GARDEN CITY W.I.

The regular monthly meeting of the Garden City Women's Institute
will be held on Thursday at 2:15
p.m. in the Marigold Hall. A demonstration of living fancy cakes and a talk on repinning fruit will be given by Mrs. Nimmo, of Nanaimo.

JAPAN HONORS MEXICAN CHIEF

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 4.—President
Obregon has been decorated by the Japanese government with the Great Cross of the Order of the Chrysanthemum, it was announced today.
The decoration will be delivered before the President leaves his office in December.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA MAKES DEBUT HERE

Mr. Lou Turner Conducts New Organization Through Programme of Surprising Ambition

Very little seems to have been said
about Mr. Lou Turner's Symphony Orchestra, so it was a surprise to find
quite a large audience at the Empress
last evening for the premiere of this latest addition to the musical organizations of the city. It well deserved a good hearing, and if it has come to stay, as everyone who heard it sincerely hopes, should give very healthy stimulus to other movements along
the same lines and help to remove
one of the city's recognized lacks in matters artistic.

Professionals

The personnel of the organization
seems to be drawn largely from the ranks of the professional musicians
of Victoria, and there was, consequently, more than the usual certainty in ensemble work for so young an orchestra. Strings, woodwind and brass instruments, where combination in full harmony was sought,
showed excellent co-ordination
through the major part of the programme, and the delightful effects
procured in such flowing symphonic passages as were offered in the beautiful Schubert symphonic poem, "Finland," the third movement of
"Arlene," the march from Grieg's
"Cruiser Suite," and the finale of "Tannhauser," offered admirable examples of what standard these musicians can aspire to and maintain.
The powers of any particular group
of instruments to contribute its special timbre to the general effect was shown in the concluding movement
of this same "Arlene."

The woodwind did some exceptionally pretty work in the opening movement
of the Liszt number. In other places,
notably the overture of "Ben Hur,"
a beautiful organ-like tone was attained. There is room for much refining of the detail, treatment of the ritards, etc., but in the general treatment and effect Mr. Lou Turner is to be congratulated on the wonderful results he has already attained.

Violin Pleases

Miss Dorothy Francis, a young violinist who has but recently returned after two or three years' study in Brussels, made a most favorable impression with her playing last evening, showing a rich and penetrating
quality of tone and a very individual and appealing style in her interpretation of the andante movement of Lalo's "Symphonie Espagnole." Miss Gladys Shapnel at the piano played with faultless precision. The other solo instrumentalists of the evening were Mr. Harold Taylor, cellist, who was first heard in the impressive and dignified Heilmann "Symphonic Variations," and Mr. Charles Crockett,
in return for commissions paid to him
out of the proceeds of the sale of Provincial bonds. The amounts said

PETER SMITH PLEADS GUILTY TO CHARGE

Former Ontario Treasurer Offers No
Defense to the Indictment for Conspiracy

TORONTO, Nov. 4.—Three years in the penitentiary was the sentence imposed by Mr. Justice Mowat this morning on Peter Smith, former Provincial Treasurer of Ontario, who pleaded guilty of conspiracy in connection with certain transactions with the Home Bank. The proceedings were brief and no evidence was taken.
Smith is already under sentence of
three years on charges of conspiracy to defraud the Province on bond sales. Both sentences will run concurrently.

T. H. Lennox, K.C., appeared for Smith. When the indictment was read Mr. Lennox stated that since the previous trial and conviction of Smith,
he had given the matter close consideration and having in mind the great expense involved in a further trial
on the new count he had advised his client to plead guilty.

The indictment sets forth that Smith conspired with the late Brigadier-General J. Cooper Macon, former general manager of the Home Bank,
to "show certain favours to Macon in return for commissions paid to him
out of the proceeds of the sale of Provincial bonds. The amounts said

to have been paid Smith in this connection in 1920 and 1921 totalled $72,000.

The indictment was not discussed
by counsel and no explicit explanation
of the charges against Smith was made.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The Argentine embassy was advised today
that by a vote of seven to six the Argentine Council of Ministers had decided to discontinue appropriations
for an envoy to the Holy See.

Have ready well-grassed muffin pans. Fill each 3/4 full

20 minutes in a hot oven.

This recipe makes ten

Grape-Nuts is an ideal food for children. Four teaspoonfuls or so with milk or cream each morning will give them the extra nourishment they need. Grape-Nuts is made by our own exclusive process from whole wheat and malted barley. It is double-baked so that the body can quickly and easily take up its abundant nourishment. Its crisp, crunchy gran-healthy development of teeth.

LEAVES THURSDAY FOR PATROL DUTY

ARMENIERES TO BE STATIONED AT BANFIELD CREEK

To Remain There Until November 27, When Relieved—Salvage Boat May Be Stationed on Coast

Leaving at 11 o'clock Thursday night for Banfield Creek, where she will be stationed to answer any distress calls from vessels off the west coast of Vancouver Island, H.M.C.S. Armenieres will not return until November 27, when she will be relieved by H.M.C.S. Thieplav, which will carry on patrol work until December 14.

These two naval ships will be stationed on the West Coast of Vancouver Island, at Banfield Creek, all through the winter months on alternate occasions. Lieut. Barkley Barnes will command the Armenieres while on patrol work. The vessel will carry a crew of 23 officers and men, and will be ready to answer any S.O.S. call that they might pick up, or which might be relayed to them from the various wireless stations along the coast. Lieut. Presley will command the Thieplav during patrol duty.

It is understood, however, that there is a possibility of one of the Pacific Salvage Company's vessels being stationed on the coast. Many suggestions of this character have been advanced, and local and Vancouver shipping men are of the opinion that this would be a wise course to take, as not only would life-saving facilities be at the disposal of distressed vessels, but salvaging equipment could be rushed to the scene of the wreck or distressed vessel before any serious damage had occurred, which might mean the total destruction of the ship. It is considered that this would be an improvement of great advantage, and those interested are unanimous in voicing the opinion that the Marine and Fisheries Department should support a development of this nature, especially in view of the fact that the Pacific Salvage Company will have its new steamer out here soon. The Salvage King is a vessel specially built for this kind of duty, and would prove of great value to deep sea shipping if stationed at Banfield Creek during the winter season.

North Pacific Weather Forecast Is Published

Monthly Report Concerning Weather Conditions Will Be Given Out Locally in Future—Prevailing Wind Will Be Westerly. Due to Anticyclonic Circulation in High Pressure Belt of Lower Latitudes—November Will Be Bad Month for Typhoons

BY the courtesy of the United States Hydrographic Department, the following data on North Pacific weather and weather reports affecting trans-Pacific liners will be published in The Colonist at the beginning of each month from "The Pilot Chart of the North Pacific Ocean."

Pressure.—The Aleutian Low is deeper than in October, the lowest pressure being 29.60 inches. The pressure is moderately low along the equator. It increases in Atlantic waters by reason of the eastward extension to continental high central over Mongolia. The North Pacific High moves nearer to the coast, and its central pressure decreases to 30.15 inches.

Temperature.—The temperature has fallen about 10 to 15 degrees since October over the Japan and Yellow Seas and East of Southern Japan to about longitude 150 degrees E., also East of Hokkaido and the Kuril Islands to about longitude 170 degrees E. To the eastward of these areas the temperature has fallen about 5 to 8 degrees. It also has fallen about 5 to 8 degrees in the Gulf of Alaska. The changes elsewhere are slight.

Over Bering Sea the temperature is below freezing. Along the immediate Atlantic Coast from Vladivostok to Hongkong the temperature ranges from 35 to 73 degrees. It is slightly above 80 degrees in the western part of the ocean in an area that reaches from the equator as far North as the 18th parallel, between longitudes 110 and 170 degrees E.; thence eastward this area diminishes in width and extends to longitude 155 degrees W., at the equator. Along the immediate American Coast from latitude 39 degrees, on the eastern border of the Gulf of Alaska, to the north.

Calms.—The percentage of calms is high along the greater part of the American and Asian Coasts, also over the region West of longitude 175 degrees E. and South of the 10th parallel.

Typhoons.—South-east to north-west gales occur frequently North of the 35th parallel, but their number decreases along the coast. The prevailing direction is from the West or West of longitude 155 degrees W. between the 35th and 50th parallels.

Typhoons and Storm Tracks.—During the 26-year period, 1893 to 1918, 21 typhoons have occurred in the Pacific Ocean. The percentage is low across the ocean; it is 9 on the China Coast from Hongkong to Shanghai and 8 in the Eastern Sea and the Gulf of Pechili.

Fog.—The percentage of days with fog is generally less in October. The area of maximum percentage, 20, is along the American Coast from Vancouver to Cape San Lucas. The percentage is low across the ocean; it is 9 on the China Coast from Hongkong to Shanghai and 8 in the Eastern Sea and the Gulf of Pechili.

Liquor Carrier Prince Albert May Soon Be Sold

Will Be Tied Up and Will Not Go South With Christmas Supply of Liquor—Seizure of Quadra Dampens Exporters' Spirits—Prince Albert May Be Sold to Pay Damages Against Her by Commercial Cable Company

ALTHOUGH no definite announcement has been made, it is understood that the Prince Albert, Victoria steamship, recently labelled for $99,000 damage by the Commercial Pacific Cable Company, will be sold. It was learned definitely that she will be tied up and will not be sent South with a Christmas supply of liquor, as was first intended.

It is thought that the renewed attack on rum-runners off the California coast by U.S. customs cutters and the recent seizure of the Quadra with her $1,000,000 cargo of liquor has dampened the spirits of local and Vancouver liquor exporters. Apart from this, the libel suit against the Prince Albert has not yet been settled, and as the amount of the damages is as much as the vessel is worth, it is quite probable that the vessel will be sold to pay the damages should the decision go against the liquor carrier, Prince Albert.

Staunch Craft Built for the Grand Trunk Pacific's coastwise service in 1922, the Prince Albert is still a staunch coastwise vessel, despite her years of service in these waters. She was built by Earle's Company, Limited, Hull, England, and is a vessel of 1,015 gross tons, in length she is 232 feet, with a beam of 31 feet and a draft of 14.1 feet. Equipped with turbine engines of the three-cylinder type, 23 1/2 inches, 25 inches and 27 and 33 inches, she makes good speed for a coastwise liner. The normal horsepower is 215, while the water pressure is 150 pounds.

With the tying up and probably sale of the Prince Albert, and the pending of the Quadra hearing by the grand jury at San Francisco, a shortage of liquor is predicted in the state of California this Christmas.

There remain the Prince of Wales, Malahat and Stadacona to meet the demand. Prices, which are quoted at $8 a bottle for good Scotch whisky, may be boosted to $10 by this probable shortage in supply unless another liquor-exporting firm buys up the Prince Albert, which is quite probable. A Montreal firm operates one liquor carrier on the coast, and it is quite probable that they will buy the Prince Albert for the same business.

Anxious to Get Home Nothing further has yet been heard from the Quadra, but local shipping men are confident that the vessel and crew will be freed, basing their beliefs on the statement that the Federal Government's attorney made when asking for a third postponement of the case. Nevertheless, many homes are anxiously awaiting the verdict in the case, as many of the crew are married men with families in Victoria and Vancouver, and are particularly anxious to get home in time for Christmas.

Mr. T. C. Brereton, Irish manager for the Cunard Line, arrives in New York to inspect offices.

Mr. T. C. Brereton, Irish manager for the Cunard Line and head of the Queenstown office, has arrived at New York as a delegate of the Irish Tourist Association to make a tour of the United States and Canada with a view to simplifying the handling of the heavy tourist traffic expected to the Emerald Isle next year. He will remain here until December 13, when he will return with the Christmas excursion to Ireland on the Carmania, under the personal direction of Mr. Frank H. Hannigan, manager of the third class department of the Cunard Line's New York office.

Mr. Brereton says the past season was fairly good in Ireland, but a great advance in tourists is assured for next year, the resort hotels having been brought up to modern standards, the railroads put in good shape with numerous trains running to all points and the head spot in roadways remedied to make automobile or jaunting car riding a delight.

He says the Irish Tourist Association, of which he is an executive member, is doing much to make known the natural and man-made beauties that await the tourist. A large guide book published by the association is now in press and will be distributed gratis in this country.

"The object of the association," said Mr. Brereton, "is to attract visitors, to cater to their comfort and pleasure; to secure minimum rates on the part of railway, shipping companies, hotels, boarding houses, motor owners and car drivers; to spread the fame of the country's magnificent scenery and places of historic interest; to interest capital in the development of Ireland; to organize bureaus of information at home and abroad; to improve transportation facilities."

More Tourists by Motor Than Rail WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—There are now more tourists coming from the United States to Canada by automobile than by train, according to officials of the customs department.

Much Relief Work Done

DUNCAN, Nov. 4.—The annual general meeting of the Cowichan branch, G. W. V. A., was held last night in the association's rooms. President G. T. Smythe occupied the chair.

The financial statement submitted showed the association to be in a sound condition, while the audited statement of the Labor Day sports and dance committee showed a substantial cash balance. Of this $30 will be handed over to the G. W. V. A. Ladies' Auxiliary to be expended on relief work, while the remainder, well over $100, will be used by the association through its own emergency relief committee.

The report of the visiting committee revealed the fact that a large amount had been expended during the year, both by the G. W. V. A. and the Auxiliary, in relieving distress. Several scores of cases had been investigated and relief afforded where necessary. The committee had covered the whole territory from Shawnigan Lake to Chemainus. Comrade Knox, chairman of the committee, had visited the hospital twice a week, and an effort had been made to aid returned men in every possible way. The Ladies' Auxiliary had rendered valuable assistance in many ways. Through them cigarettes, tobacco and magazines were supplied to the patients, and a Christmas box of an appropriate nature was prepared. Returned men or their dependents who were unfortunate enough to spend the holiday season in the hospital. Many of the members of the association to say nothing of the general public, did not realize the work which was accomplished, or the necessity for its continuance. A vote of thanks to the Auxiliary and to the visiting and emergency committees was passed.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, J. Dick; first vice-president, R. S. A. Jackson; second vice-president, T. L. Dunkley; secretary, L. T. Price; treasurer, W. J. S. Hatter; executive committee, Comrades Smythe, Gorton, Kennett, Knox, Hinchliffe, Gorton, Huntingdon, Elliott, Barnes, Barry, Bodner and Groves; emergency committee, Comrades Hatter, Dick and Knox; visiting committee, Comrades Knox and Hinchliffe.

It was decided to hold a returned soldiers' dinner at an early date, and a special committee consisting of Comrades Dick, Knox, Jackson, Smythe was appointed to make all the necessary arrangements.

Would Guard Children From Careless Drivers

NANAIMO, Nov. 4.—The Board of Police Commissioners have asked the City Council to place signs in the vicinity of all schools warning motorists to be careful of children. The communication was referred to the street committee for action.

There were only two fires in the city during the month of October, according to the report of Fire Chief Clark, submitted to the council last evening. The damage done was less than $100.

The sanitary inspector reported having investigated twenty-four nuisances and complaints during the past week. He had quarantined three houses for scarlet fever and had had two cases in the police court against people allowing animals to run at large.

Permission was granted the Children's Aid Society to hold a tag on the first pay day in December.

Ladysmith Waterworks Back to Normal Again

LADYSMITH, Nov. 4.—W. E. DeLaurier and R. E. Pierce, the latter engineer in charge of waterworks and irrigation (B. C.) for the C. P. R., paid a hurried visit to this city yesterday to investigate the breakage in the new water mains being installed by the Ladysmith waterworks, a subsidiary of the C. P. R.

Several lengths of new pipe have broken during installation, causing great inconvenience to the local residents, who have been without water supply since Thursday last.

Mr. DeLaurier, representing the importing firm which placed the pipe on the local market, and Mr. Pierce declare that the faulty pipes have been replaced and that no further trouble need be expected from that source.

In the meantime the Canadian Collieries have supplied a limited service.

NANAIMO OBITUARIES

The funeral of the late John Joseph Keen took place from McAdie's parlors yesterday at 3 p.m., service being conducted by Rev. S. Ryall. The following acted as pallbearers: Messrs. W. Zelly, T. Cullen, J. Thompson, S. Floyd, G. Waznet and A. Malcolm.

HUNTER IS FIXED

Is Acting for Crown

MR. W. N. TILLEY, K.C.

Is now acting for the Crown in prosecuting Charles A. Matthews, former Deputy Provincial Treasurer of Ontario, who is charged with conspiracy to defraud the province.

people were much better dressed than they used to be," reports Miss Hilgate. A great many people were taking the role who did not need it. She had been glad to see that the suggestion (made by a member of the Labor Party) that the role be extended to boys and girls leaving school had been thrown down by the Labor Government itself. It would be ruinous for a nation to start its young people with that idea.

"Some of the trades unions," she thought, were rather standing in the way of settlement of the unemployment problem by refusing to permit men to be employed in certain occupations at less than a certain wage. The consequence was that employers were often forced to leave work undone.

"Trades Unions have yet to learn at what point they defeat their own ends. The Labor Party has learned its lesson, and has done so with extraordinary dignity, good taste and good feeling. They have shown the attributes which are the characteristic ideal of the English people. But the lessons which Labor as a party learned in office have not been thoroughly absorbed by the rank and file—although they are being learned. Personally I think that the Labor Party will give tremendous support to the Conservatives now that they are back in office," she maintains.

Canada in England

Miss Hilgate was asked what place Canada occupied in the thoughts of the people of England who are thinking of migrating abroad. Her

Second, the Labor Party on its side had learned something of which they had previously had no idea whatever: the tremendous courage and patience and specialized knowledge required in governing an Empire. Before they attempted governing, Labor had thought the task a comparatively easy one. Their promises were quite sincere, but when they actually got into office they realized that they simply could not keep these promises. The result of that, Miss Hilgate contends, is that Labor retires from office with a greatly increased sympathy for any other governing body than they had ever anticipated in the past, and

First, even the most rabid of Tories had learned to understand and tremendously respect Labor and Labor ideals. Even though Tories might not be able to sympathize with Labor, they could not help but recognize that the average Laborite was absolutely sincere and was not at all "Red." The "Red," in fact, was a class apart. Although he tried to identify himself with Labor, Labor in England had practically nothing in common with the "Red" movement. The English as a race were too sane to be carried away by anything like revolution.
